PART VIII

EVIDENCE IN CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS—GENERAL

Confessions

77 Confessions by mentally handicapped persons.

- (1) Without prejudice to the general duty of the court at a trial on indictment [^{F1}with a jury] to direct the jury on any matter on which it appears to the court appropriate to do so, where at such a trial—the court shall warn the jury that there is special need for caution before convicting the accused in reliance on the confession, and shall explain that the need arises because of the circumstances mentioned in paragraphs (a) and (b) above.

- (2) In any case where at the summary trial of a person for an offence it appears to the court that a warning under subsection (1) above would be required if the trial were on indictment [^{F2}with a jury], the court shall treat the case as one in which there is a special need for caution before convicting the accused on his confession.

[^{F3}(2A) In any case where at the trial on indictment without a jury of a person for an offence it appears to the court that a warning under subsection (1) above would be required if the trial were with a jury, the court shall treat the case as one in which there is a special need for caution before convicting the accused on his confession.]
