

Pensions (Mercantile Marine) Act 1942

CHAPTER 26

PENSIONS (MERCANTILE MARINE) ACT 1942

- 1 Additional injuries and damage in respect of which compensation may be paid.
- 2 Mariners.
- 3 Pilots and apprentice pilots.
- 4 Persons engaged in salvage operations.
- 5 Meaning of “physical injury”.
- 6 Minor and consequential amendments of principal Act.
- 7
- 8 Provisions as to schemes.
- 9 Expenses.
- 10 Short title and interpretation.

SCHEDULE — MINOR AND CONSEQUENTIAL AMENDMENTS OF THE PRINCIPAL ACT.

- In subsection (3) of section three and in subsection (2)...
- In paragraph (a) of subsection (5) of section seven for...
- At the end of paragraph (b) of subsection (3) of...
- In paragraph (c) of subsection (3) of section four, for...
- In subsection (4) of section four at the end of...
- In the definition of “British ship” in section ten for...
- In the definition of “mariner” in section ten the word...
- After the definition of “Naval War Pensions Order” in section...
- For the definition of “port” in section ten there shall...
- After the definition of “port” in section ten there shall...

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Pensions (Mercantile Marine) Act 1942.