- (b) is made during the transitional period which relates to that scheme.

(3) Where this Part applies, regulations 5 to 8 of the Public Service Vehicles (Registration of Local Services) Regulations 1986(10) (periods of notice: local services registrations) do not apply.

Period of notice for new registration during transitional period

4.—(1) Subject to paragraph (2) and regulations 7 and 8, the period of notice prescribed for the purposes of section 6(3)(a) of the 1985 Act in respect of an application to which this Part applies is—

- (b) 56 days in the case of any other service(12), commencing on the date on which the traffic commissioner accepts the application.

 - (i) a service which, before the service is varied in accordance with the application to which this regulation relates, is to be excluded from the scheme by virtue of section 127(4) of the 2000 Act, or
 - (ii) any service not falling within sub-paragraph (a), (b) or (c)(i),

 - (b) must take into account other applications made during the transitional period to register particulars of a service or to vary service registrations.
- (4) If an application to vary a service registration satisfies more than one of the criteria described in paragraph (2), the shorter or shortest period which applies to that application by virtue of those criteria is to apply for the purposes of section 6(8)(a) of the 1985 Act.

 - (b) where an operator applies to vary or cancel the registration of a service which is either not available to members of the general public or not generally used by them;

 - (e) where an operator applies to vary a registration by adjusting the timetable of a service without significantly affecting the level of service provision, and the adjusted timings are—
 - (i) in no case more than 10 minutes earlier or later than those which they replace; or
 - (ii) required to adapt the service to a variation in a connecting rail, ferry or air service;

- (h) where an operator applies to register particulars of a service, or vary a registration, with respect to a service or part of a service in order to meet an urgent and exceptional public passenger transport requirement.
