Notifying the parties of the appeal procedure

5.—(1) The National Assembly must, no earlier than the end of the period specified in paragraph (2), give notice to the appellant and to the respondent of the form which the appeal is to take.

Part III

APPEALS DETERMINED ON THE BASIS OF WRITTEN REPRESENTATIONS

Application

7. Regulations 8 and 9 apply to appeals which are to be determined on the basis of written representations.

Exchange of evidence

8.—(1) In addition to any documents already sent to the National Assembly by the appellant in accordance with regulation 6 of the Provisional Maps Regulations (in the case of an appeal under section 6 of the Act), and by the respondent in accordance with regulation 4 of these Regulations, the appellant and the respondent must, within 6 weeks of the starting date, send to the National Assembly two copies of any further written representations or other documents on which they wish to rely or, if they do not wish to rely on any such further representations or other documents, a notice to that effect.

(2) The National Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receiving any further representations, other documents or notices pursuant to paragraph (1), send a copy of those representations, documents or notices to the appellant or the respondent, as appropriate.

(3) The appellant and the respondent must, within 9 weeks of the starting date, send to the National Assembly two copies of any further representations, other documents or notices on which they wish to rely or, if they do not wish to rely on any such further representations or other documents, a notice to that effect.

(4) Where representations have been made to the National Assembly by anyone other than the appellant and the respondent, the National Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receiving those representations, send a copy of them to the appellant, and to the respondent, who must, if they wish to submit any comments on those representations to the National Assembly, send two copies of their comments to the National Assembly within 9 weeks of the starting date.

(5) The National Assembly may, in a particular case, invite the appellant and the respondent to send to the National Assembly and to each other, within such reasonable time as it may specify, such further representations or other documents as it believes are necessary in order to enable the appeal to be determined.

Decision on an appeal determined by an exchange of written representations

9.—(1) The appointed person may, after the expiration of any time limits within which the appellant or the respondent are required or permitted to take any step in accordance with these Regulations, and after giving to the appellant and the respondent written notice of the intention to do so, proceed to a decision on the appeal by taking into account only such representations and other documents as have been submitted to the National Assembly within the relevant time limits.

(2) The National Assembly must notify the decision on an appeal, and its reasons for reaching that decision, in writing to:

- (a) the appellant;
- (b) the respondent;
- (c) any interested person; and
- (d) any other person who has asked to be notified of the decision whom the National Assembly considers it reasonable to notify.

Part IV

APPEALS DETERMINED FOLLOWING A HEARING

Application

10. Regulations 11 to 16 apply to appeals which are to be determined following a hearing.

Exchange of evidence

11. Regulation 8 is to apply to an appeal to be determined following a hearing as it does to an appeal to be determined on the basis of written representations.

Date and notification of a hearing

12.—(1) The National Assembly must:

- (a) as soon as practicable, notify the appellant, the respondent, any person who has made representations in relation to the appeal and any other person as it thinks fit, of the name of the appointed person who will conduct the hearing;
- (b) as soon as practicable after any change in the identity of the appointed person, give notification of that change to those persons entitled to be notified in accordance with subparagraph (a), unless it is not reasonably practicable to do so before the hearing is held, in which case the name of the appointed person and the fact of that person's appointment must be announced at the commencement of the hearing;
- (c) unless the National Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant and the respondent, give not less than 4 weeks' written notice to the appellant, the respondent, any interested person and such other persons as it thinks fit of the date, time and place fixed for the hearing; and

(d) not less than 2 weeks before the date fixed for the holding of a hearing, publish a notice of the hearing in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land is situated.

(2) Every notice of a hearing given in accordance with paragraph (1)(c) or published in accordance with paragraph (1)(d) must contain:

- (a) a statement of the date, time and place of the hearing and of the powers enabling the National Assembly to determine the appeal in question;
- (b) a written description of the land sufficient to identify its location and extent;
- (c) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- (d) details of where and when copies of documents relevant to the appeal may be inspected.

(3) Notwithstanding paragraph (1), the National Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of the hearing, whether or not the date as varied is within the period otherwise required by that paragraph and paragraph (1)(c) and (d) apply to a variation of a date as they applied to the date originally fixed.

(4) The National Assembly may vary the time or place fixed for the holding of the hearing and must give such notice of any variation as appears to it to be reasonable.

Rights of attendance at and participation in a hearing

13. The appellant and the respondent are entitled to attend and take part in a hearing, and the appointed person may permit any other persons to do so (whether on their own behalf or on behalf of any other person).

Procedure at a hearing

14.—(1) Except as otherwise provided in these Regulations, the appointed person may determine the procedure at a hearing.

(2) A hearing is to take the form of a discussion led by the appointed person and cross-examination is not to be permitted unless the appointed person considers that it is required to ensure proper examination of the issues relevant to the appeal.

(3) An appointed person who considers that cross-examination is required under paragraph (2) must consider, after consulting the appellant and the respondent, whether the hearing should be closed and an inquiry held instead.

(4) At the start of the hearing, the appointed person must identify the issues which appear to the appointed person to be the main issues to be considered at the hearing and any matters on which the appointed person requires further explanation from any person entitled or permitted to take part.

(5) Nothing in paragraph (4) is to preclude any person entitled or permitted to take part in the hearing from referring to issues which they consider relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues identified by the appointed person pursuant to that paragraph.

(6) A person entitled to take part in a hearing may, subject to the foregoing and paragraphs (7) and (8), call evidence but, the calling of evidence is otherwise to be at the appointed person's discretion.

(7) The appointed person may refuse to permit the giving of oral evidence or the presentation of any other matter which the appointed person considers to be irrelevant or repetitious but, where the appointed person refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit any evidence or other matter in writing to the appointed person before the close of the hearing.

(8) The appointed person may:

- (a) require any person attending or taking part in a hearing who, in the opinion of the appointed person, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave; and
- (b) refuse to permit that person to return or permit that person to return only on such conditions as the appointed person may specify, but any such person may submit any evidence or other matter in writing to the appointed person before the close of the hearing.

(9) The appointed person may allow any person to alter or add to a statement so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the hearing, but the appointed person must (if necessary by adjourning the hearing) give every other person entitled to take part in and who is actually taking part in the hearing an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document.

(10) The appointed person may proceed with a hearing in the absence of any person entitled to take part in it.

(11) The appointed person may take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document which the appointed person has received from any person before a hearing opens or during the hearing provided that the appointed person discloses it at the hearing.

(12) The appointed person may from time to time adjourn a hearing and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned hearing are announced at the hearing before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required.

Decision after a hearing

15.—(1) The appointed person may disregard any written representations, evidence or other documents received after the hearing has closed.

(2) If, after the close of the hearing, the appointed person proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact (not being a matter of government policy) which was not raised at the hearing and which the appointed person considers to be material to the decision, the appointed person must not do so without first:

- (a) notifying persons entitled to take part in the hearing (whether or not they attended the hearing) of the matter in question; and
- (b) affording them an opportunity of making written representations or of asking for the re-opening of the hearing, provided such written representations or request to re-open the hearing are received by the National Assembly within 3 weeks of the date of the notification.

(3) An appointed person may cause a hearing to be re-opened and the appointed person must do so if asked by the appellant or the respondent in the circumstances and within the period mentioned in paragraph (2) and where a hearing is re-opened:

- (a) the appointed person must send to the persons entitled to take part in the hearing and who took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited; and
- (b) regulation 12(1)(c) and (d) are to apply as if the references to a hearing were references to a re-opened hearing.

Notification of decision

16.—(1) The decision of the appointed person, and the reasons for it, must be notified in writing to:

- (a) the appellant;
- (b) the respondent;

- (c) any other person who, having taken part in the hearing, has asked to be notified of the decision.
- (2) Any person entitled to be notified of the decision under paragraph (1) may apply to the National Assembly, in writing, for an opportunity to inspect any documents listed in the notification and the National Assembly must afford that person that opportunity.
- (3) Any person making an application under paragraph (2) must ensure that it is received by the National Assembly within 6 weeks of the date of the decision on the appeal.

- (b) simultaneously send copies of these to any interested person to whom the National Assembly may require them to be supplied, and the National Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each proof of evidence together with any summary to the respondent and the appellant.

(2) No written summary is required where the proof of evidence proposed to be read contains no more than 1,500 words.

(3) The proof of evidence and any summary must be received by the National Assembly no later than:

(5) Where a written summary is provided in accordance with paragraph (1), only that summary shall be read at the inquiry, unless the appointed person permits or requires otherwise.

(6) Any person required by this regulation to send copies of a proof of evidence to the National Assembly must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available for inspection pursuant to regulation 19(12).

(2) At the start of the inquiry the appointed person must identify the issues which are, in the opinion of the appointed person, the main issues to be considered at the inquiry and any matters on which the appointed person requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to take part.

(3) Nothing in paragraph (2) is to preclude any person entitled or permitted to take part from referring to issues which they consider relevant to the consideration of the application or appeal but which were not issues identified by the appointed person pursuant to that paragraph.

(4) Unless in any particular case the appointed person otherwise determines, the respondent is to begin and the appellant is to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to take part are to be heard in such order as the appointed person may determine.

(2) When making a decision in relation to the appeal, the appointed person may disregard any written representations, or evidence or any other document received after the inquiry has closed.

(3) If, after the close of the inquiry, an appointed person proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact (not being a matter of government policy) which was not raised at the inquiry and which the appointed person considers to be material to the decision, the appointed person must not come to a decision without first:

- (a) notifying persons entitled to take part in the inquiry who took part in it of the matter in question; and
- (b) affording them an opportunity of making written representations to the appointed person or of asking for the re-opening of the inquiry, and they shall ensure that such written representations or request to re-open the inquiry are received by the appointed person within 3 weeks of the date of the notification.

- (b) the respondent;
- (c) any other persons entitled to take part in the inquiry who did take part; and

(2) Any person entitled to be notified of the decision under paragraph (1) may apply to the National Assembly, in writing, for an opportunity to inspect any documents listed in the notification and the National Assembly must afford that person that opportunity.

(3) Any person making an application under paragraph (2) must ensure that it is received by the National Assembly within 6 weeks of the date of the decision.

Part VI

29.—(1) The appellant may withdraw an appeal by giving notice in writing to the National Assembly of a wish to do so.

(2) The National Assembly must, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving notice of withdrawal of an appeal, give notice of that fact to all those persons to whom a notice was given under regulation 5(1).

Change to the form of an appeal

30. If at any time it appears to the National Assembly that it is more appropriate that the appeal should be determined in a way which is different from the form which was notified under regulation 5, it may determine that the appeal is to continue in a form other than that notified and may give any consequential guidance as to the procedure to be applied in relation to the appeal, including identifying any steps which are required to be taken by the parties under these Regulations which are to be deemed to have already been taken and varying as necessary the time within which any such step which has not already been taken.

Further or different procedures

31. The National Assembly may, if the circumstances relating to a particular appeal make it necessary, require any specified steps to be taken, either in addition to, or in substitution for, those prescribed by these Regulations and may extend the time prescribed by these Regulations, or otherwise required under these Regulations, for the taking of any step but must, before doing so, unless the effect is limited to an extension of time, consult the appellant and the respondent and may consult any interested person and must consider the representations made by any person consulted as to the desirability of such a requirement.

Notification of appointment of an assessor

32. Where the National Assembly exercises its power under paragraph 4(3) of Schedule 3 to the Act to appoint an assessor to assist an appointed person in the determination of an appeal, it must notify the appellant, the respondent and any interested person of the name of the assessor and the matters on which the assessor has been appointed to advise the appointed person.

Site inspections

33.—(1) The appointed person may at any time make an unaccompanied inspection of the land without giving notice of an intention to do so to the appellant or the respondent.

(2) During an inquiry or hearing or after the close of an inquiry or hearing, the appointed person:

- (a) may, after announcing during the inquiry or hearing the date and time at which the inspection is proposed to be made, inspect the land in the company of the appellant, the respondent and any interested person; and
- (b) must make such an inspection if so requested by the appellant or the respondent before or during an inquiry or hearing.

(3) If an appeal is being determined on the basis of written representations, the appointed person:

 - (b) must make such an inspection if so requested by the appellant or the respondent before the appointed person makes a decision.
- (4) An appellant must take such steps as are reasonably within the appellant's power to enable the appointed person to obtain access to the land to be inspected.
- (5) The appointed person is not to be bound to defer an inspection of the kind referred to in paragraphs (2) or (3) where any person mentioned in those paragraphs is not present at the time appointed.

Joint hearings or inquiries

34. Where two or more appeals give rise to a common issue or issues or, in the case of appeals under section 6 of the Act, relate to the same provisional map, the National Assembly may hold a joint hearing or inquiry relating to those appeals if in its opinion it is desirable to do so and, in such a case, the National Assembly must exercise its powers under regulation 31 with a view to modifying the provisions of these Regulations to such extent as is necessary in consequence of the decision to hold a joint hearing or inquiry.

Use of electronic communication

35.—(1) Any document required or authorised to be sent by one person to another under the provisions of these Regulations may, as an alternative to any other method, be sent by means of an electronic communication, provided the person who sends the document has reasonable grounds for believing that the document will come to the attention of the person to whom it is sent, in legible form, within a reasonable time.

(2) Where, under these Regulations, there is a requirement that a copy of a statement, representation, notice or other document should be sent to the National Assembly then, if that copy is sent in electronic form, any further requirement that more than one copy should be sent is to be disregarded.

Publication of decisions on appeals under section 6 of the Act

36. The National Assembly must, unless it is not reasonably practicable to do so, publish on an internet web-site which it maintains notice of every decision made under these Regulations in relation to an appeal under section 6 of the Act and continue to do so until the conclusive map to which the appeal relates is issued.

The Deputy Presiding Officer of the National Assembly

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

Under sections 11, 32 and 38 of the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 (“the Act”), the National Assembly for Wales (“the National Assembly”) has the power to make regulations to provide the procedures to be followed in determining appeals brought under Part I of the Act.

These Regulations will initially have effect in relation to appeals brought under section 6 of the Act (appeals by persons against the showing of land, in which they have an interest, on a provisional map as open country or registered common land).

It is intended that these Regulations will also form the basis of the procedures to be used in determining other appeals brought under Part I of the Act, including those under section 30 of the Act (an appeal against a decision of an authority where that authority has decided not to grant an application for a direction under section 24 or 25 of the Act or has acted otherwise than in accordance with representations made under section 27(5) of the Act) and those under section 38 of the Act (an appeal by a person to whom a notice has been given by an authority under section 36(3) or 37(1) of the Act, or an appeal by any other owner or occupier of the land affected by such notice, against the giving of such notice).

In these Regulations:

Part II (regulations 3 to 6) sets out the initial procedures which will have effect irrespective of whether the appeal is to be determined by exchange of written representations or following a hearing or public local inquiry. These initial procedures require the person bringing the appeal (“the appellant”), and the person whose decision has given rise to the appeal (“the respondent”), to provide specified information to the National Assembly and require the publication of notices in the local press, and the sending of notices to persons and specified organisations who have an interest in such appeals, giving information relating to the appeal.

Part III (regulations 7 to 9) provides the procedures to be followed where a party to an appeal has chosen to have the appeal determined through an exchange of written representations. The main parties to the appeal are required to exchange evidence before the person appointed by the National Assembly to determine the appeal will make the decision and notify the persons specified in regulation 9 of that decision.

Part IV (regulations 10 to 16) provides the procedures to be followed where a party to an appeal has chosen for the appeal to be determined following a hearing. The main parties to the appeal will be required to exchange evidence in the same way as is required by Part III of the Regulations and a person will then be appointed by the National Assembly to determine the appeal by conducting a hearing. The Regulations provide for the main parties to the appeal, and the public, to be notified of the date, time and place fixed for the hearing and specify the persons entitled to attend, and take part, and the procedure to be followed at a hearing. After the hearing has been brought to a close, the person appointed by the National Assembly to determine the appeal will make the decision and notify the persons specified in regulation 16 of that decision.

Part V (regulations 17 to 28) provides the procedures to be followed where a party to an appeal has chosen for the appeal to be determined following a public local inquiry. Where an inquiry is to be held, the Regulations provide for a pre-inquiry meeting to be held if the main inquiry is either expected to last for 8 days or more or a pre-inquiry meeting is nevertheless considered necessary. The main parties to the appeal are required to exchange statements of case and other interested persons may also submit representations to the National Assembly. The Regulations require the person appointed by the National Assembly to hold the inquiry to arrange a timetable for the inquiry and require notice of the date, time and place of the inquiry to be publicised. The Regulations specify the persons entitled to attend, and take part, at an inquiry and set out other procedural issues relating to the conduct of an inquiry. After the inquiry has been brought to a close, the person appointed to determine the appeal will make the decision and notify the persons specified in regulation 28 of that decision.

Part VI (regulations 29 to 36) sets out miscellaneous matters, including the right for the appellant to withdraw an appeal, powers for the National Assembly to change the way an appeal may be conducted, to appoint a person (“an assessor”) to assist the person appointed to determine an appeal and to hold a joint hearing or inquiry where there are issues common to more than one appeal brought under Part I of the Act, a power for the person appointed to determine an appeal to visit and inspect the land which is the subject of the appeal, a power for electronic means of communication to be used by the parties and a requirement for the National Assembly to publish decisions made on appeals brought under Part I of the Act on its website.
